THE BASICS

GETTING PREAPPROVED

and why it matters

When it comes to buying a home, we are sure you have seen the terms “pre-approval” and “pre-qualification” everywhere. Although they sound similar, these are actually two different things! Here’s how you can tell which is which:

PRE-QUALIFICATION

- A quick “snapshot” that helps you know how much mortgage money you might qualify for.
- May require a credit check, depending on your state.
- Does not require documentation of your financial situation.
- Provided by a lender as a ballpark estimate.
- Does not work as a signal that you are ready to purchase a home.

PRE-APPROVAL

- Always requires a credit check.
- Verified financial history, including documentation.
- Should you choose to, you can get a mortgage for the amount and terms for which you are pre-approved.
- No commitment to receive a mortgage from the pre-approving company.
- A sign that you are very serious and ready to purchase a home.

As a rule of thumb, a pre-APPROVED buyer is seen as a more serious buyer. When you offer on a home, you include your pre-approval with your offer. This shows a seller that you are serious about purchasing a home.

FINANCING TYPES

There are many types of mortgages, but here are details on common qualifications for some of the more popular programs:

PROGRAM	REQUIREMENTS
CONVENTIONAL	620 score as low as 3% down
FHA	580 score (down to 520 with 10% down) 3.5% down Not just for first time homebuyers!
VA	580 score 0% down
USDA	620 score 0% down

You don't need 20% down?!

Why is 20% down seen as the “magic number” for down payment? When the LTV (loan-to-value) ratio of a mortgage is 80% or less, the buyer does not have to pay PMI- Primary Mortgage Insurance. This is insurance that protects the lender in case the buyer defaults on the loan.

FIRST HOME?

or forever home?

Owning a home is the single best investment that you can make. Your mortgage payment stays the same for the life of the loan (with a fixed APR mortgage & excluding change in taxes or insurance). Whether it's your first home or your forever home, we are excited to help you on your journey!

BENEFITS OF BUYING

- You build equity.
- Tax benefits.
- You can renovate and decorate as you see fit.
- Security: you get to decide if and when you move.
- Homeowners are more likely to connect to their community.
- Statistically, children test better & have less behavioral issues.

06

CONTINGENCIES (SEE NEXT PAGE)

OFFER CONTINGENCIES

01

Financing

A buyer is often using financing to purchase the home. The financing contingency means that if your loan does not go through at no fault of your own (i.e. you lose your job), you are no longer required to close on the property and will often get your earnest money back. We will explain the terms of your specific contract.

02

Inspections

Buyers will often buy the home with a due diligence period. During this period, you may get any inspections done that you want. Depending upon your contract, you may then have the right to either back out, request repairs, or move forward with the property as-is. We will guide you through this process based on the terms of your contract.

03

Appraisal

Many buyers use financing that requires the home to appraise at a certain value. A licensed third-party appraiser will be hired by your lender to come out and give the official "appraised value" of the property. If the property does not appraise for a certain amount, we may need to re-negotiate your contract price.

04

Home Sale & Close

Sometimes a buyer has to sell their previous home in order to be able to close on their purchase. This will be revealed in the original offer. If something happens and your previous property does not sell, you may have to pull out of your new purchase.

THE OFFER PROCESS

AFTER YOU SEND AN OFFER

We will go over your offer details together. Once the details are thoroughly reviewed and understood, we will send it to the seller's agent. They will have three options:

1- ACCEPT THE OFFER

2- DECLINE THE OFFER

3- COUNTER OFFER

If they agree to most of the offer but want to change a few details, they can counter the buyer with the new terms.

We can negotiate back and forth as many times as needed until you reach an agreement or someone chooses to walk away.

ONCE AN OFFER IS ACCEPTED BY BOTH PARTIES, YOU ARE OFFICIALLY UNDER CONTRACT-.

Congrats!!

CONTINGENCIES

INSPECTIONS

If your contract allows, you will now order inspections. Your agent will help coordinate these to accommodate everyone as best as possible. If your contract allows for repair negotiations, your agent will also be the one communicating with the seller's agent on your behalf.

three main inspections

CL100

THIS WILL CHECK FOR TERMITES, OTHER PESTS, DAMAGE FROM PESTS, AND WATER LEAKS/DAMAGE.

GENERAL INSPECTION

THIS WILL CHECK EVERYTHING FROM WIRING TO WINDOWS. IT GIVES A BASIC OVERVIEW OF THE ENTIRE HOME AND ALERTS US IF WE NEED TO GET A SPECIALIZED CONTRACTOR OUT TO THE HOME.

HVAC

THIS WILL CHECK FOR POTENTIAL ISSUES WITH THE HEATING AND COOLING OF THE HOME.

Additional inspections may include:
well, septic, pool, roof, electrical, plumbing, foundation, etc.

REPAIR ADDENDUM

& re-negotiating

Your inspections may have uncovered some issues that you just are not comfortable with! If your contract allows, you may send in a repair addendum! In response to this, sellers can do one of three things:

1. Agree to have all repairs done.
2. Say no to all repairs.
3. Negotiate the repairs.

The good thing is that your contract is USUALLY contingent upon an agreement being made. We will guide you in what your contract allows, and will have your back with whatever decisions you make!

UH-OH, IT APPRAISED LOW!

Sometimes an appraiser cannot find the contract value in the house. This can be an issues if you have an appraisal contingency. This re-opens the door for price negotiations. You can pay the cash difference, appeal the appraisal, or ask the seller to lower price. Don't worry, you will never be forced to pay more than the appraisal price as long as you have the appraisal contingency!

CLOSING Day

WHAT IS CLOSING?

Closing is when the seller signs over ownership paperwork and hands over the keys! This means that ALL contingencies have been cleared!

FINAL WALK-THROUGH

As a buyer, you will do a final walk of the home usually within 24 hours of closing to check the property's condition. This final inspection takes about an hour.

WE WILL BE SURE TO

- Make sure that any repairs that they have agreed to have been completed.
- Ensure that the home is in a clean condition.
- Make sure that their personal property is all out of the house (unless written into the contract).
- Check that no other issues have arisen in the home since your inspections.

CLOSING TABLE

Who may be there:

- Your agent (ME) & seller's agent
- Seller
- Closing Attorney
- Your Lender

BRING TO CLOSING

- Government-issued photo ID
- Any funds needed to close (usually wired to the closing attorney beforehand)

Thank you!
